About the Business Power Awards

BUILT ON LEGACY

Founded by British Pakistanis Nadim Hanif and Andleeb Hanif, the 'Business Power Awards' was built from over 25-years of multi award-winning journalism, and business advocacy through one of UK's largest South Asian publications - the 'Asian Express Newspaper'.

The 'Business Power Awards' champions the entrepreneurs, professionals and change-makers driving real impact across industries and communities.

Following the success of the UK-based 'Business Power Awards' and 'BPA Empowering Women Awards', the platform now takes its next major international step - launching in Lahore, Pakistan.

WHY LAHORE?

In partnership with the 'Innovation Hub' at the University of Lahore, 'Business Power Awards Lahore' is celebrating excellence across all industry sectors, recognising the businesses and professionals helping shape one of South Asia's fastest-growing economic regions.

Lahore stands at the centre of Pakistan's commercial and entrepreneurial landscape - home to thriving SMEs, startups, manufacturers, technology firms and global exporters.

Pakistan's SME sector contributes approximately 40% to GDP and nearly 80% of non-agricultural employment, highlighting the vital role businesses play in driving growth, innovation and opportunity nationwide.

MORE THAN AN AWARDS PLATFORM

'Business Power Awards Lahore' is a platform for visibility, collaboration and international connection - bringing together British Pakistani and Pakistani business networks, innovators, entrepreneurs and institutions under one influential umbrella.

By combining the legacy of the UK's Business Power Awards and the forward-thinking vision of the Innovation Hub at the University of Lahore, this partnership is a powerful bridge between two nations connected through enterprise, ambition and community.
